Total Wealth

Global Currencies
The Dollar's Move Is More Dangerous than You Think
By Michael Lewitt, Special Contributor, Money Morning

With earnings season here, what's lost in the "oohing and aahing" over the incoming results is a reasoned look at what's influencing the dollar's move and, more importantly, the effect it will have on our wallets, if not today, certainly down the road.

Earnings and corporate reports are a long game, and that game is in the early innings. Investors need to understand the reasons behind the strength in the dollar, why it is likely to persist, and how we need to prepare... Full Story

Key Takeaway
With earnings season here again, investors are distracted by strong filings from some of our biggest multinationals. Indeed, they've flocked to the shares, sending them on double-digit rocket rides. But inside those reports are dollar derived losses running to the double-digits themselves. A dangerous euphoria prevails now...

Wall Street Insights & Indictment
Healthcare Disruptors in the "New War" on

- Spot the trends: Most investors are lucky to get in ahead of one or two really big trends in their investing careers. But Keith has proven you can do it over and over. He's done it for Wall Street, institutional clients, and now he's doing it for you. He'll show you the six unstoppable trends that are changing the world and moving trillions of dollars.
- Pick the trades: It's not enough to know what the trends are. You've got to identify the little companies set up to benefit most and the trading tactics that will squeeze every last dollar of profit out of these trends – from lowball orders and averaging in to more sophisticated techniques, like options and shorting. Keith will show you what tactics are best-suited to max out the profit potential... and when it's time to change them.
- Build your fortune: To leverage these trades into a lifetime of wealth, you need a small arsenal of risk management tools: trailing stops, profit targets, hedges, and the right portfolio structure. Nobody does this as well as Keith. He will walk you through every one of these tools, with real-world examples.

Absolutely any investor can put Keith's Total Wealth system to work – especially with Keith showing you how to do it every week. Follow along each week, as Keith rolls out the biggest trends and shows you how to trade them and build your own “total wealth.”

Oil & Energy Investor

Dr. Kent Moors is our Global Energy Strategist. His access to behind-the-scenes sources and major energy players throughout the world gives him insight and perspective on global energy markets and emerging trends that you just can't find anywhere else.

Topics such as oil prices tend to drive the headlines day in and day out. But Kent uncovers the underlying and lesser known variables that will shape the future of energy and make long term investors very happy in the process.

Kent is currently Executive Chair at the Global Energy Symposium and has been a leading consultant on the energy markets for 40 years, working for major clients that include:

- Six of the world's top 10 oil companies
- Leading natural gas producers throughout Russia, the Caspian Basin, the Persian Gulf, and North Africa
- High-level officials from the U.S., Russian, Kazakh, Bahamian, Iraqi, and Kurdish governments
- Governors of several U.S. states and the premiers of two Canadian provinces
- The Bank of England, the Caribbean Business Enterprise Trust, Citicorp, Control Data, AT&T, Deutsche Bank, EDS, the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, the International Finance Corporation, the Russian Central Bank, and Westinghouse.

The intelligence he gets from meeting with his clients year round is invaluable to investors of all shapes and portfolio sizes. The big Wall Street players call him all the time, but he never gives them any exclusive insight that he wouldn't share with his readers first. Kent makes his recommendations in Oil & Energy Investor – an advisory letter for investors who don't, or simply can't, get access to this kind of information.

In every issue, Kent focuses on stories that go beyond the headlines on television or in financial journals, and explains to you what is really going on in the markets. You'll find out what the energy industry's biggest players are really doing to make more money for themselves... and how you can profit from their moves.

Strategic Tech Investor

Michael Robinson is our Tech Specialist, and he's convinced that the road to wealth is paved with technology profits. The technology sector has outperformed real estate, gold, commodities, manufacturing, transportation, and just about everyone else.

Right now, Michael believes that technology has the potential to get dramatically more lucrative. He looks at many complex layers of "disruptive" technologies (paradigm-shifting changes) that he says are coming together to create some of the biggest opportunities of the last 50 years. With Michael's Strategic Tech Investor, you won't miss any of them.

Michael's been a giant in tech investing for more than 30 years. As a leading analyst and tech journalist he's been on the forefront of just about every major emerging technology story of the last decade. He's even been nominated for a Pulitzer Prize for his reporting on the sector.

His privileged access to technology-pioneering CEOs, prize-winning scientists, and high-profile industry insiders has allowed him to consistently give investors huge gains on remarkable breakthroughs like 3D printing, the mobile wave and shale energy technologies well before anyone else.

Michael will be your guide in this new era. Every week, he'll share with you something new from the long list of trends and discoveries on his investment radar screen. He will help you make sense of all these fast-changing technologies. He'll show you what companies are on the forefront, and whether or not they're ripe for your investment.

Strategic Tech Investor puts you directly in touch with high-tech research, analysis, stock picks, and strategies from a sector with more exponential, explosive growth than any other.

Wall Street Insights & Indictments

It's very hard to understand how the high-stakes games of Wall Street are really played from the outside. What you need is a gatecrasher who can decipher Wall Street's machinations for the average investor. Maybe you can't beat the system, but you shouldn't lose out just because you aren't an "insider."

Enter our resident renegade and iconoclastic trader, Shah Gilani. Some call him subversive, even eccentric. But his readers call him "right."

After years as one of the most successful traders with a seat on the Chicago Board of Exchange, he refined his knowledge of credit markets on the trading desk of Lloyds Bank. He's also a seasoned veteran of old-line New York and Boston investment banks and trading houses. A former hedge fund manager, he's made a lot of clients a lot of money.

In Wall Street Insights & Indictments, Shah Gilani gives you an uncompromising (and uncompromised) perspective that not only provides the unvarnished truth, but lets you can get in ahead of the market-movers. He's currently tracking some of the immense "Disruptors" that will become the biggest drivers of dynamic change in the markets. You can ride these moneymaking shifts to the top.

As a member of Insights & Indictments, you'll not only get the big picture according to Shah. You'll also find out how to trade it for maximum gains. And you'll get it all as a courtesy benefit of Money Morning membership.

Power Profit Trades

As Money Morning's Options Trading Specialist, Tom Gentile is one of the world's foremost authorities on stocks, futures, and options trading. Tom brings over 25 years' experience in the securities industry to Power Profit Trades, and his style of trading systems and strategies is designed to help individual investors propel themselves past 99% of the trading crowd, into the "1%" of highly successful investors.

Tom climbed the ranks of the American Stock Exchange at a rapid rate. In 1993 Tom and a group of partners started an educational company called Optionetics, which became a leader in the field of options education.

Tom is an author and co-author of over a half-dozen books, including The Options Course, The Volatility Course, The Index Course, and The Stock Market Course, each of which is accompanied by a hands-on practice workbook.

He removes the fear of the unknown and breaks down what can happen – both good and bad – when trading options. Tom shows you what to do and the proper rules to follow to maximize your profits and minimize your risks.

Trading always involves risk, and some fear. But when you have a predetermined, successfully practiced and established trading process, you will be able to manage the risk and overcome that fear. Power Profit Trades will walk you through that process.

Sure Money

Michael E. Lewitt is a storied financial author and a widely recognized credit strategist. He's been managing money for institutional investors and his high-net-worth clients for 25 years, building a remarkable track record of keeping their money "sure" in all market conditions.

He was lauded by the Financial Times for accurately predicting both the 2007 market crash and the 2000-2001 credit crisis.

Michael believes that global economies can no longer overcome the suffocating weight of debt that is sapping their vitality. As a result, he has specific predictions for when and how bad things could get.

Michael's ultra-wealthy clients are already well-positioned and protected. Now, for the first time ever, he's sending his forecasts and warnings (and even his advice) directly to you as well.

In Sure Money, Michael's mission is to help individual investors understand what asset classes are going up and which ones you want to avoid at all costs. Each week he lays out the global market picture with unparalleled clarity. As a Sure Money subscriber, you'll learn how to profit, too.

A subscription to Sure Money is another complimentary benefit of your membership. All you have to do is sign up.

Premium Newsletters

For investors or researchers who would like to access premium recommendations, which contain another level of detailed guidance, actionable insight, and specific recommendations, we also offer our experts' premium newsletters. These are not included in Money Morning membership, but you will be able to acquire discounts on them through loyalty rewards (more on this on page 8). Our premium newsletters include...

- The Money Map Report
- Energy Advantage
- Nova-X Report
- Private Briefing

Below, you'll find an overview of each Premium Newsletter...

The Money Map Report

The Money Map Report is our most far-reaching publication, both in terms of the member base, and the global dynamics that Keith Fitz-Gerald and his team of investing specialists examine to identify the biggest profit opportunities.

A Money Map Report subscription includes:

- 12 monthly newsletters with at least one new investment recommendation;
- 52 weekly email updates;
- Urgent "Profit Alerts" that tell you when to exit a position;
- Access to the Money Map Report model portfolio, plus past newsletters and alerts;

- Research reports on different market sectors (commodities, income, energy, and more), with investment ideas and recommendations for each one; and
- Keith's book: The Money Map Method: How to Create Lifelong Wealth in a Forever-Changed World.

Additionally, all of our expert advisors share their best pick of the month – all rolled into one monthly newsletter. Money Map Report is a great way to start with our paid services and find out which fast-moving trends are about to reward investors, the best way to play each, and how to structure your portfolio for the biggest gains.

Energy Advantage

In Energy Advantage, Dr. Kent Moors digs deep into the latest trends and opportunities in oil, natural gas, fossil fuels, nuclear, and alternative energy, and shows you precisely how to profit.

Traditional “buy and hold” investing is no longer the right – or the most profitable – approach. Everything we know about energy is changing – our sources, how we trade it, how we produce it, even how it's financed. Indeed, the new wave of mega-profits will go to investors who understand these changes and know just how to take advantage of them.

Through Energy Advantage, Kent takes care of the detail and groundwork to make it easy for his readers to make the real gains in energy.

The Nova-X Report

The Nova-X Report is Michael Robinson's research service – for which Strategic Tech Investor is the companion piece. Nova-X puts you directly in touch with high-tech analysis, stock picks, and strategies that Michael provides.

Michael has covered nearly every major tech breakthrough since the personal computer, and here he'll show you specific ways to pinpoint the most promising tech opportunities before they become mainstream, and often make a fortune in the process.

The key to winning in tech investing is to ignore the hype, while pouncing only on companies that offer real growth. Michael shows you how to do this every month. Each issue explains exactly how to capitalize on these opportunities for the biggest gains.

Today more mind-blowing technologies are hitting the market faster than ever before. As a 35-year veteran Silicon Valley tech analyst, Michael Robinson is perfectly positioned to seek out these transformative technologies months – even years – before they hit the mainstream.

In The Nova-X Report Michael will show you how to best use his unique “tech wealth strategies” for delivering winners like clockwork in all the biggest movements of the day, including the mobile revolution, big data, the Internet of Everything, and cloud computing (just to name a few)...

Simple, Effective Risk Management

Our editors recommend setting trailing stops on nearly every stock play. They lock in gains and help manage risk. It used to take extra work to set them, but trailing stops are simply one of the most powerful tools an investor can have. Our partners at TradeStops have arranged the best deal anywhere for our members on their proprietary technology, designed to track trailing stop alerts on your portfolio. TradeStops can track up to 200 simultaneous alerts on the U.S., London, and Canadian equities and indexes. You can even track U.S. mutual funds.

Essential Reading

As an added service to save you the trouble of sifting through literally thousands of titles when looking for books on investing, we’ve curated a list of the best books ever written on investing, and listed them all on one page for our members.

Investment Philosophy

The overarching principle that informs our investing philosophy is one of “diverse perspectives, consistent aims.” At Money Morning, our focus is on making investing profitable for our members. We maintain this focus through an empirical, unbiased approach. Political and economic ideology takes a back seat to time-tested results. Theories take a back seat to the facts and realities on the ground.

So our research is characterized by a disinterest in any theoretical, academic, or ideological uniformity. But at the same time, all of our experts, writers, researchers, and staff adhere to a few guiding principles that necessarily underpin all of our recommendations...

Be very wary of emotional investing. Human psychology makes objective decisions about when to cut losses or take profits extremely difficult if not impossible. Even in retrospect, we find ways to rationalize investment decisions that were clearly irrational. Being conscious of all of our biases and tendencies helps but it isn't enough. Risk management tools like trailing stops and various options strategies are a requirement and are baked into all our recommendations. Loss prevention and meticulous risk management are an absolute must.

Employ the “Money Map Method.” In keeping with the theme of risk management, a properly balanced portfolio is essential. Our Chief Investment Strategist, Keith Fitz-Gerald, employs the 50-40-10 balanced portfolio allocation strategy to minimize risk and maximize gains. That is 50% of your portfolio should be comprised of defensive positions that will hold their value, 40% globally recognized brands with high cash flow, high dividend yield, and strong balance sheet positions, and 10% higher risk, potentially giant gain opportunities.

Stay focused on the big picture. It's easy, and even sometimes useful, to remain focused on the minutiae that is involved in investment decisions. But the details must always be taken in the context of the larger, macro trends that are taking shape to form a complete investment picture...

Keith, for example, is focused on unstoppable trends that drive global growth, such as demographic shifts and resource allocation. Kent focuses on the technological and geo-political shifts that will create dramatic changes in the energy sector. Michael is focused on how tech changes the way we communicate, interact, and work, and Shah keeps his eye on the disruptors undergirding our financial sector as a whole.

These are the big picture considerations that should always be the backdrop for the analysis of an individual opportunity.

Independence. Money Map Press remains a completely independent financial publisher. Our ideas, recommendations, and advice to our readers is never “paid for” or influenced by the companies we write about or outside advertisers. They emerge instead out of how we see the world changing, and how those changes can be leveraged to make investing profitable for all of our members.

Our Mission

Our mission at Money Morning is simple. We make investing profitable for our members. Whether that profitability comes from our expert stock recommendations, strategic investing advice, discounted premium services, or exclusive deals through our partners – all depends on how you, as a member, choose to take advantage of the research and resources we develop and curate.

We value your participation, engagement, feedback, and loyalty. In exchange, we work to provide you with thoroughly researched analysis and profitable takes on the news, resources, tools, and services that will equip you with everything you need to tap into the opportunities in the markets today.

Money Morning is more than just another special interest publication or financial newsletter service. We are a growing community of like-minded people sharing ideas that make investing profitable.
